Planning Your Topic

- Choose a subject you are interested in learning about. Think about what kind of history you are interested in and let that guide you.
- Narrow your topic. Use the graphic organizer and example below to help you.
- Start your research with secondary sources. This will help you narrow your topic and decide if there will be enough research material to cover the topic.
- There is no perfect number of resources.
- Ask for help.
- There is always more research to do.
- Don't be afraid to ask for an interview.
- Understand your topic in its historical context.
- Remember not everything you read is relevant but be sure to keep track of all your sources.
- Complete a project logic model. It will help keep you on track!
